Below is a list of the databases that we offer through the Bronx H.S. of Science. There are also a number of databases accessible through your public library that allow remote access. You need a public library card. You can sign up for one by going to www.nypl.org or www.queenslibrary.org to apply for a card and have it mailed to you.

POSTING OF THESE PASSWORDS ON ANY PERSONAL WEB PAGE OR BLOG IS IN VIOLATION OF SCHOOL POLICY.

OXFORD REFERENCE AND OED ONLINE: Reference sources including English and foreign language dictionaries, quotations, maps, timelines and encyclopedias from all subject areas. The Oxford English Dictionary is the authority in the etymology of English language words. Username and Password: bxlib

GALE ELECTRONIC RESOURCES: Includes access to multiple databases such as General Science, Popular Magazines, Psychology, World History, Religion & Philosophy, Opposing Viewpoints and more. Username and Password: empirelink

PROQUEST PLATINUM:
Includes full text periodicals and journals, including peer-reviewed journals. Millions of articles from more than 8,000 full-text scholarly journals, magazines, and newspapers.
Username: bxsciencechs
Password: welcome

SCIENCEMAG: Current news science news including primary and secondary sources. Case sensitive passwords.
User Name: bronxscience
Password: science

JSTOR: Scholarly journal articles with original research in a number of academic disciplines.
To use at home, go to http://jstor.org/logon/
Username: BXhigh
Password: klipergobe

17TH-18TH CENTURY BURNEY COLLECTION NEWSPAPERS
The newspapers and news pamphlets gathered by the Reverend Charles Burney (1757 - 1817) represent the largest single collection of 17th and 18th century English news media. The 700 or so bound volumes of newspapers and news pamphlets were published mostly in London, however there are also some English provincial, Irish and Scottish papers, and a few examples from the American colonies, Europe and India.
18TH CENTURY COLLECTIONS ONLINE FROM GALE/CENGAGE
Over 180,000 titles (200,000 volumes). Includes books, pamphlets, essays, broadsides and more based on the English Short Title Catalogue. Works published in the UK during the 18th century plus thousands from elsewhere. Primarily in English - also includes other languages.

NINETEENTH CENTURY COLLECTIONS ONLINE
Monographs, newspapers, pamphlets, manuscripts, ephemera, maps, photographs, statistics, and other kinds of documents in both Western and non-Western languages. Because some documents are rare and in delicate or extremely fragile condition, Gale Digital Collections works in close coordination with curators and preservationists to maintain the originals for posterity. With authoritative content, trustworthy and extensive bibliographic information, and technology that fits the needs of today’s researchers.

SLAVERY AND ANTI-SLAVERY: A TRANSNATIONAL ARCHIVE
5.4 million cross-searchable pages: 12049 books, 170 serials, 71 manuscript collections, 377 supreme court records and briefs and 194 reference articles from Macmillan, Charles Scribner's Sons and Gale encyclopedias. Links to websites, biographies, chronology, bibliographies, and information on key collections, to give users background and context for further research. Collections published through partnerships with the Amistad Research Center, the Bibliothèque Nationale de France, the British Library, the National Archives in Kew, Oberlin College, the Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture, the University of Miami, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and many other institutions.

THE ECONOMIST HISTORICAL ARCHIVE; 1843-2011
In more than 8,000 issues since its first publication in 1843, The Economist has presented timely reporting, concise commentary and comprehensive analysis of global news every week. With objective authority, clarity and wit, The Economist presents the world’s political, business, scientific, technological and cultural developments and the connections between them. Because of its global editorial perspective, it is read by more of the world's political and business leaders than any other magazine. The Economist Historical Archive delivers a complete searchable copy of every issue of The Economist from 1843 to 2013. Full-color images, multiple search indexes, and the facility to browse each and every issue - all combine to offer a unique primary source covering the 19th and 20th centuries.

THE MAKING OF THE MODERN WORLD
Provides digital facsimile images of unique primary sources that track the development of the modern, western world through the lens of trade and wealth. Full-text searching across millions of pages of works from the period 1450-1850 (and 1851-1914 in Part II) provides researchers unparalleled access to this vast collection of material for research in the areas of history, political science, social conditions, technology and industry, economics, area studies and more.

PRIMARY SOURCES GALE
Gale Primary Sources program combines dozens of historical archives covering hundreds of years of history. In this exhaustive resource you will find monographs, manuscripts, newspapers, maps, and photographs. Gale continues to make additional primary source collections available through the Gale Primary Sources cross-search experience. Cross-searchable with the other Gale collections: 17th and 18th Century Burney Collection, Eighteenth Century Collections, Nineteenth Century Collection, The Economist Archive, and the Making of the Modern World.

SPIE DIGITAL LIBRARY
The SPIE Digital Library contains the world's largest collection of optics and photonics applied research. With more than 465,000 papers spanning biomedicine, communications, sensors, defense and security, manufacturing, electronics, energy, and imaging, the SPIE Digital Library is the most extensive research database available on optics and photonics research.
User Name: SPIEDL4BronxHS
Password: SPIEDL4BronxHS

BRITANNICA SCHOOL EDITION
Britannica School is the go-to site for learning more about any subject, offering thousands of up-to-date, curated, and curriculum-relevant articles, images, videos, audio clips, primary sources, maps, research tools, and recommended Web sites. Select the High School database.
User Name: bxbrit
Password: bxbrit1